BUILDERS' EXCHANGE MAY CHANGE HANDS

Structure on Thirteenth Street Said to Be Involved in Contemplated Deal.

- well defined report that has aroused much discussion among real estate dealers is that the building on Thirteenth street, between G and H street northwest known as the Builders' Exchange, and sometimes called the Internal anal Investment C mpany build-ing, has been placed on the market. The asking price is said to be about

The owner, S. B. Rinehart, of Penn sylvania, has been in Washington with n the post few days in connection with the matter, the report says, but was not in town yesterday. His local agent re-fused to discuss the matter. It is learned on good authority, however, that negotiations were entered in to recently between the owner and a New York capitalist, the president of a large corporation, for the sale of the The matter will be decided within a few days, and whether the negotiations will be carried to a conlusion is a matter which will be await-The Department of Commerce and La-

The Department of Commerce and Labor is an important tenant of the building. Only recently, the department renewed its lease there for another year. Then there is the firm of N. L. Sansbury & Co., which occupies part of the ground floor. The offices are tenanted by firms and individuals in various lines of business, although the second floor is practically vacant. Should the negotiations be carried to a successful conclusion, the purchasers will, it is understood, remodel the building extensively, and establish there a large business plant. This would mean, of course, that the present tenants would be obliged to vacate their offices. The new building which the Department of Commerce and Labor is to have eventually may not be started for two eventually may not be started for two or three years.
